

ARE THE RICH REQUIRED TO GIVE MORE?

The rich are required to give more as a result of our religion requiring everyone to provide 2.5% from their designated assets. So a rich person will provide more dollars than a middle class person. However, there is no imposition of additional donation requirements on the rich, rather just encouragement to them to give more from sadaqa. It should be noted that those who are required to pay Zakat are those who have the nisaab, which in our currency is approximately $3,500-$4,000.
